WHEAT GROWERS
RECEIVE RELIEF

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
TOPEKA, Kan., July 31.—An increase in the number of cars made available for the shipment of wheat to market is affording some relief to Kansas farmers in the problem of marketing their grain, according to state officials and bankers interested in the wheat movement.

Although there are not yet enough cars to move all the wheat, and many cars promised by the interstate commerce commission have not yet arrived, and railroad officials are unable to give any definite assurance as to when they will arrive, the car shortage is not so desperate now as it has been in past years.

Officials of the state board of agriculture estimate that there are still stored on Kansas farms 22,000,000 bushels of last year's wheat crop, and an additional 8,000,000 bushels of last year's wheat in Kansas elevators. A perceptible movement of this "hold-over crop" is now reported by the state board of agriculture.

Enormous Crop

There remains, however, the vastly greater problem of moving this year's wheat crop, variously estimated at 110,000,000 to 125,000,000 bushels, to the great milling and export centers.

Bankers are vitally concerned in the wheat movement problem. According to J. R. Anspaugh, secretary of the Kansas State Bankers' association, bankers have $65,000,000 tied up in loans on crops which await marketing. Many of these loans are long overdue, and the prospects are that the amount involved in crop loans will easily reach $100,000,000 with the ripening of the present wheat crop.

Some Relief

Some relief has been obtained, Mr.
Anspaugh said, from the recent announcement of the federal reserve board that it favored extension of crop loans, and the fact that federal reserve banks had been authorized to accept wheat paper from member banks or from other banks through correspondents.

Railroad officials have warned farmers of their inability to move the new wheat crop promptly and urged them to make arrangements to hold it on farms properly stacked or in bins.

TAKES TO WRITING

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
BERLIN, July 12.—Dr. Adolf Koester, who has just laid down his office of German minister for foreign affairs, has become a contributor to the well-known humorous weekly, Simplicissimus, the current issue of which contains a sentimental short love story from his pen.

ATTENTION VOTERS

OFFICE OF TREATIES
OPENED BY LEAGUE

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
LONDON, July 19.—Sir James Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the League of Nations, has just notified the members of the league that an office for the registration and publication of treaties has been set up in accordance with the terms of the memorandum approved by the council of the league at its meeting in Rome in May. A statement issued from the secretary-general's office says:

"Article 18 of the covenant of the League of Nations reads: 'Every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any member of the league shall be forthwith registered with the secretariat and shall as soon as possible be published by it. No such treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered.'
"And the council of the League of Nations declared in its memorandum of May 19 1920: 'Publicity has for a long time been considered a source of moral strength in the administration of national law. It should equally strengthen the laws and engagements which exist between nations. It will promote public control. It will awaken public interest. It will remove causes for distrust and conflict. Publicity alone will enable the League of Nations to extend a moral sanction to the contractual obligations of its members. It will, moreover, contribute to the formation of a clear and indisputable system of international law.'

"A treaty will have legal existence after it has been presented for registration by the parties concerned, to whom a certificate of registration will be delivered.
"In addition, in a second register, a page will be reserved for each treaty. All relevant information will be entered therein; signatures and ratifications by the parties, and, if necessary, subsequent accessions or withdrawals.
"Certified extracts from this register may be delivered to states, tribunals or individuals concerned.
"The treaties will not only be registered, but also published. They will appear in a special section of the official journal of the League of Nations, through which they may be come known to all."

DISAPPEARANCE
DEEP MYSTERY

Millionaire Theatrical Man and Secretary Are Missing;
Police Baffled

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
TORONTO, July 24.—The double disappearance of Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatrical man of this city, and his secretary, John Doughty, both well-known citizens of Toronto, has been one of the most mystifying cases with which the Canadian police have had to deal. Small has been missing since December 2 and Doughty since December 28, last.

The whole continent of America has been a field for search by detectives for trace of the missing men, and offering rewards for the recovery of him, dead or alive, have been sent to almost every country in the civilized world.

Mr. Small had just put through a deal for the sale of his interests in a string of theatres in Canada at $1,750,000 to a syndicate known as Trinacria Theatres Ltd., and a few hours before his disappearance, on December 2, he had received a check for $1,000,000 in connection with the sale. This check he deposited in his bank. On that day he had had lunch with his wife downtown, and had promised her to be home to dinner in the evening. He had attended to some business late that afternoon and about 7 o'clock started for home, so far as is known.
The last person known to have seen him was his favorite newsboy, from whom Mr. Small bought the evening papers.

LONG KEPT SECRET

The fact that Mr. Small was missing was not made public until three or four weeks had elapsed. In the first week in January the first circulars asking for information as to Mr. Small's whereabouts were sent out by the local police authorities, and a reward of $500 was offered. A short time afterward the reward was increased to $500. Then on the first of June a reward of $50,000 was offered by Mrs. Small for information regarding Mr. Small's whereabouts, if alive, and $15,000 for the recovery of his body, if dead.

The mystery of Mr. Small's absence was accentuated by the disappearance of John Doughty, who had been his private secretary for many years. Doughty has not been seen or heard from, so far as the authorities are aware, since December 28, 1919. In June, 1920, the discovery was made that $150,000 of Victory bonds were missing from the safe deposit vault where they had been placed by Mr. Small, and it was stated that Doughty had had access to the vault. Thereupon circulars were issued offering $5000 reward for the arrest of John Doughty on a charge of having abducted Ambrose Small, and $5000 for Doughty's arrest on a charge of having stolen the missing Victory bonds.

By a special act of the Ontario legislature Mr. Small was declared an "absentee" and a trust corporation of Ottawa was appointed trustee of Mr. Small's estate.

A STRUGGLE FOR EXISTENCE

(Correspondence of Associated Press)
BERLIN, July 9.—More than 90 per cent of the people of Germany are trying to exist, according to a Berlin statistician, on incomes which do not equal the present minimum cost of living. The mark today, he estimates, has a purchasing value equal to only about one-twelfth that of pre-war times. He shows that in 1914 the minimum cost of rental, food, clothing and other necessities for a man, wife and two children was 1300 marks a year. Now this minimum cost is estimated at 19,500 marks.
